Ice Cream Social!

ANNUAL SUMMER SOCIAL

The Classified Senate held our annual summer social - the Ice Cream Social! It was a big hit and attended by many classified professionals from all over campus. It’s a wonderful opportunity to celebrate summer.

The Social Activities Committee spearheaded the event as part of the Senate’s social program to build our classified community and #workfamily.

Patricia Gill, Patti Brusca, and Caitlin Welch wielded the ice cream scoopers to a happy group ready to enjoy a timeout from their busy workday and enjoy some ice cream while chatting with their fellow classified professionals.

The winter social will be Cookies & Cocoa set for January 7, 2020 at 1pm. More info coming soon!
Daniel Landin is moving to Tel Aviv, Israel! Daniel began his Norco College journey in 2011, when he was hired as a college receptionist for the counseling department. He left after a few months to pursue his education in film production at the University of Southern California. Through the encouragement of one of his USC professors, Daniel was hired to direct a segment of “Go Public”, a documentary about public education that went on to air nationally on PBS.

He later transferred to Cal State Fullerton, and after completing his bachelor’s degree in Film at CSUF in 2015, he returned to Norco College and was hired as the educational advisor for the college’s partnership with John F. Kennedy Middle College High School. Because of the invaluable work of the middle college partnership team, the JFKMCHS program saw tremendous growth in student success and achievement.

A burgeoning adventurer and world traveler, Daniel visited Europe in 2018 and hiked 500 miles of the Way of Saint James, an ancient pilgrimage trail in Spain known as the Camino de Santiago. The past four years has seen him grow into an avid hiker—with a love for camping; some of the hikes etched into his memory are: hiking in the dead of night to see the lava flows on the Big Island of Hawaii, trekking in the rain through the Kilauea Iki crater, a Rim-to-Rim-to-Rim attempt of the Grand Canyon, and a walk drenched in morning light - around Manzanita Lake in Lassen Volcanic National Park.

While his time at NC has provided the resources to see these wonders, it’s the friendships he’s made that mean the most to him. He hopes to carry them with him as he pursues his master’s degree in Middle Eastern Studies at Tel Aviv University, and for the rest of his life. Congratulations and good luck Daniel!

CLASSIFIED PROFESSIONAL COMMUNITY

Don’t forget to follow us on social media! If you would like to submit a photo/story for social media or the newsletter, please send it to the Communications Committee. We are always looking to highlight classified professionals!

Staff Development Day on August 1st had over 45 classified professionals attendance. It featured workshops on Communications in the Workplace, Stress Management, Adobe Creative Cloud, Great Colleges to Work For and Social Media. It began with a team-building activity that got staff out of their seats and around the room! By a show of hands, we had 24 staff who were students at RCCD with 34 achieving their degrees in higher education and 11 completing their master’s degrees with 4 currently working towards it! 6 classified professionals are teaching. So impressive!

The Summer BBQ was the last activity of the summer before fall semester began. Classified professionals enjoyed the lunch and had fun in the water balloon toss.
