Happy Halloween!

CLASSIFIED PROFESSIONALS SHOWED THEIR SPIRIT!

Each year for Halloween, classified professionals bring the spirit of decorating, costumes, and just plain fun to Norco College! From A&R to Financial Aid to the LRC and Counseling! Here’s some of our pictures.
Suzie Schepler, Grants Administrative Specialist, attended Norco College in Fall 2014. She had worked in construction as an accounts clerk until the recession hit, when she decided to return to school and get her degree. Suzie joined ASNC as a Senator and then served as ASNC president for 2015-2016. She took classes in accounting as well as tutored in the LRC. Patty Worsham encouraged Suzie to consider getting her master’s degree so that she could come back and teach accounting. This sparked something in Suzie. "I want to teach because I want to share my knowledge and use my talent to help other people. And I want to teach at a community college because it’s where I think I can do the most good."

In 2016, she graduated with great distinction with an associate’s degree in Administration & Information Systems. Suzie then transferred to Cal Baptist but worked as a substitute in Business Services from July 2016 off and on with a stint in Student Life until July 2018. By this point she had completed a B.A. in Accounting and within a week started her master’s program. Suzie became the Grants Administrative Specialist in September 2018. She loves working with students in the STEM Center. She’s been a dedicated member of the team even while working hard on her master’s in Business Administration-Accounting which she completed this past May. She’s now an MBA!

She juggles her busy schedule with her family life. Suzie lives in Norco with her husband, John, and her kids: Kirsten, 14, Austin, 22, and Blake, 25; and 3 dogs, 3 cats, 3 chickens, 3 goats, 2 bearded dragons, and a turkey. Suzie recently got great news that she will be teaching Accounting in the spring at Mt. SAC!

Congratulations Suzie!

CLASSIFIED PROFESSIONAL COMMUNITY

Wondering how to share your news with the classified community? Send your news and a photo to the Communications Committee and we’ll post it on social media or feature you in the Newsletter! It’s a great way to highlight classified professionals and connect us with each other even when we’re busy in our day to day jobs. Birthdays, birth announcements, education attainment, promotions, new jobs, and more!

Classified professionals were out and about on campus and at events such as Read 2 Succeed, Harvest Festival, Art of Women conference, and more!

The Staff Professional Development Committee is working on planning the next Staff Development Day as well as collaborating on Equity professional development with the college. More info coming soon. Would you like to help plan social events for classified professionals? Join the Social Activities Committee and help plan the Winter Social and Classified Professional of the Year event!
